THE WEEK IN SOCIETY

The freedom of the city and that of various house holds have been granted to the foreign visitors who have been in port for the last fortnight. The most beautiful entertainment of the week was the ball given by Mr. and Mrs. Forbes-Leith at Sherry's on day night in honor of Vice-Admiral Sir John o. Hopkins, K. C. B., the captains and officers of the British Squadron. The invitations were by no means confined to the British officers. American. Russian and French were included as well. In their honor ballroom was hung with the National colors of these foreign countries and the United States flags. which were deftly arranged by Jack Tars who came from the frigates to do this work in ship-shape fash-For a ball so hurriedly arranged it was brilliant in the extreme. Every one seemed to be in good apirits and it was so long since there had been dancthat it seemed the start of a fresh season. Fortunately for all concerned the temperature of the town far from what is expected on May 1, consequently dancing was indulged in without discomfort. There were several red coats, which with the uniforms Naval officers lent a tone to the ball which lifted it beyond the ordinary gatherings of fashionable people. There was a Russian grand duke in the party, the nearest approach to royalty in these Columsian festivities. It is doubtful if the middles of the on Monday. The host did all in his power to introduce them to attractive partners, and in this laudable undertaking he was assisted by numerous friends.

New-York's handsome matrons and maids were out ferce, and their gowns all had a fresh look. Mrs Henry Clews wore a superb gown, mediaeval in ef-fect, and a decided departure from the prevailing styles. The trained skirt, of white and gold bro cade, was caught up to the walst at the left side disclosing a petticoat of white satin trimmed with car lands of crushed pink roses. The corsage, of the brocade, was pientifully sprinkled with diamonds. Mrs. B. C. Porter's blond beauty was enhanced by a clinging Empire gown of white satin, trimmed with tiny silver spangles. In her colffure was worn diamond star surmounted with a diamond crescent. Miss Louise Morris, in black satin and a single brilliant at the point of her corsage, was generally conceded to be the handsomest of the unmarried women present. she was with her cousin, Mrs. Richard Irvin. Miss Jeanne Campbell wore a quaint costume of the 1830 period, of rose pink and blue brocade. Miss Massie strong was most effective in white and straw color Mrs. J. Pierpont Morgan's gown was of deep rest colored velvet, over white and gold brocade. Sice were a magnificent necklace of diamonds, with pendants of pear-shaped pearls. Mrs. J. Hobart Warren's gown, of current and white silk, was almost startling in its vivid coloring. The hostess were rose colored brocade, and her daughter, Mrs. Charles Rosdew Burn, pale blue bengaline, combined with gold lace. Miss Bessle Stanley Clarke, who has been the guest of the Forbes-Leiths for some weeks, was in a pretty gown of pale blue satin, brocaded with sprigs of pink rosebuds. Mrs. Charles Pelham Clinton, who sailed for England on Wednesday, had an effective gown of copper-colored satin, combined with black. Dancing, which was informal, continued far into the following day. Mr. and Mrs. Forbes-Leith will sail for England some time next month. Their daughter, Mrs. Burn, went to join her husband by the Teutonic on Wednesday.

A small dance for some of the officers of the British squadron was given on Wednesday night by Thomas H. Kelly, who took the state apartments at the Waldorf. His mother, Mrs. Eugene Kelly, and his niece, Miss Reales, received. There was dancing in the banquet hall until shortly before midnight, when small tables already prepared for supper were brought in. There was a large cluster of American beauty roses in the centre of each table. Among Mr. Kelly's small party were Mr. and Mrs. C. G. Francklyn, Mrs. P. H. Benedict, Mrs. Charles Beckwith Ashmore, Miss Eleanor Cross, Miss Redmond, the Misses Cameron, Miss Elise Perkins, Miss Adelaide Beales, R. McLeod Cameron, Miss Lawrence, Miss Whittier, Julian G. Buckley, Lieutenant Babcock, of the Sau Francisco, and several younger officers of the Blake. After supper a cotilion was denced.

The engagement has just been announced of Miss Ethel Ethingham Johnson, only daughter of Eastman Johnson, one of the leading American portrait painters, to Lieutenant Edward H. Mowbray, of the British crulser Tariar. This engagement is not one of the results of this recent invasion of New-York Harbor by the British. Lieutenant Mowbray met his future wife while stationed at Bermuda a year ago. Miss Johnson has been out in society for several seasons. The formal announcement of the engagement was made last night at a dinner given by Mr. and Mrs. Johnson at their house in West Fifty-fifth-st.

Mrs. George Bend and her daughter, Miss Amy celebrated in a few weeks at the Townsend mansion, No. 9 West Twenty-fifth-st., where Miss Bend's mother was married. The date of the wedding has not been The engagement has been recently announced stepniece of Justice Field, to Cyrus Field Judson, a grandson of Cyrus Fleid. Though graduated from the Sheffield Scientific School of Yule College, Mr. Judson has chosen to follow business pursuits in the region of Wall Street. Miss condit Smith is well known in New-York. Their marriage will take place in June.

The death in Florence, Italy, on Saturday, April 29. of Mrs. Margaret Hills Parker, widow of W. Parker, and daughter of Henry Hills, of New-York, revives in the memory of many old New-Yorkers the pleasant salon in the neighborhood of Washington Square, before society was so large, when music of the highest order of those days was heard from Miss Fanny Reed and Miss Minnle Parker, now Mrs. Jules de Neufville. It is the tradition in New-York society that through the power of Miss Reed's voice, her sister, Mrs. Paran Stevens, was permitted to enter the charmed circle. Mrs. Parker had lived abroad during the greater part of the last twenty years, and during the season in Paris the best American element used to flock to her tiny hotel in the Rue de la Rochefoucauld on he'r reception days. Her reception-room was too small to bold ber friends, the overflow waiting patiently on the stairway until they could get into the drawing-room to pay their respects or to hear the good music at-ways furnished. Mrs. Parker's son, Stephen Hills Parker, is a portrait quinter. A number of his portraits adorn the drawing-rooms of New-York houses. The annual parade of the New-York Coaching Club will be held on Saturday, May 27, and though the secretary of the club, J. Roosevelt Roosevelt, in his announcement requested the members to inform him yesterday of their intention to parade or not, there have 6 is not the last day of grace, ten more days being permitted before the final decision. It is thought that the function will be served in a more private place than for the last two or three years when a public restaurant has been chosen. The matter of luncheon has not yet been decided upon. The Infanta Eulalie of Spain will arrive in New-York is about a fortnight. Some steps are being taken to give a ball or some entertainment hefitting her rank and importance. The idea of honoring the lier rank and importance. The idea of honoring the distinguished visitor was conceived by the Circle Colon Cervantes, of which Arturo Cuyas is chairman. To Mr. Cuyas has been promised the co-operation of several women of fashion, in order that the bail or whatever entertainment may be decided upon shall in every sense be brilliant and representative. As the date of the Infanta's arrival is uncertain, no definite arrangements can be made for any sort of entertainment. In case there is a bail it will be given by subscription, the subscribers having the privilege of inviting whomsoever they piease. The bail will have the sanction of the Spanish Minister, Senor de Murusgua; the Mexican Minister, Senor Romero, and the Minister representing the spanish-American countries. The women who have been asked to co-operate with Mr. Cuyas, have, with scarcely an exception, had considerable experience in foreign society. One thing is certain, the bail will in no way be a public one. The members of the Diplomatic Corps will come over from Washington, and will wear their court costumes, which with the uniforms of Army and Navy officials and the line ciothes and jewels of New-York women ought to impress the Infanta on her first vieit to a republic. No female member of a reigning European house has ever been entertained in New-York.

Mr. and Mrs. John Jacob Astor, who have given dinner parties frequently during the spring, entertained a party at dinner on Thurnday night, among whom were Mr. and Mrs. Cooper Hewitt, Mr. and Mrs. B. L. Baylies, Miss Restrice Bend, Miss Whittier, Miss Grace Wilson and Mrs. William Astor, who is from time to time met at the houses of her most intimate friends. Besides the pictures, there will be some alter music by Mrs. Charles Stuart Dodge, formerly Miss Flora Higelow, and an original monologue, never before heard, from the pen of Miss Caroline King Duer, by Mrs. Hilborn Roosevelt. William M. Chase will superintend the arrangements of the pictures. Some of the patronesses are Mrs. John Rean, Mrs. Richard, Irvin, Mrs. C. Albert Stevens, Mrs. 8 tephen Van Rensselaer, Mrs. H. L. Roosevelt, Mrs. Douglas Robinson; jr., Miss Freilinghuysen, Mrs. A. 8. Hewitt and Mrs. John W. Minturn. A small dance, in honor of the Grand Duke Alexander, will be given by the Consul-General of Russia to New-York and Mms. Olarowsky at Sherry's on Friday night.

NEW FLOWERS IN THE BIG GARDEN.

EXHIBITORS IMPROVED THEIR EXHIBITS YES-

TERDAY. The half-holiday and the long-wished for fine weather brought a large crowd to Madison Square Garden yesterday to look at the spring flower show. The exhibitors, expecting and hoping that there would be an increased influx of visitors, recivified their ex-hibits by bringing in new plants that took the places of those that were somewhat faded. Pitcher & Manda sent azallas, cinerarias, calceolarias and Eisle sent some splendid new British Navy ever had more attention paid them than gerantums, and J. Hood Wright increased the interest in his exhibit of calceolarias by sending some new varieties from his home at Fort Washington.

A noticeable and beautiful addition to the floral show was a magnificent bed of bybrid perpetual roses, sent in and arranged by Dailledouze Brothers, to the city limits, but the line must be built. If of Flatbush, L. I. In the centre and raised above the other roses in this bed was a line of the pure new lines. I believe that our decision to meet white Merveille de Lyon, and flanking this on each side were the different shades of pink roses exhibited by Mrs. John Laing, Ulrich Brunner and the Baroness Mrs. John Laing, Ulrich Brunner and the baroness de Rothschild. As far as roses are concerned, this is certainly the finest exhibit that has ever been made at the Garden.

To-day, which will be the last of the show, there will be sacred music throughout the day by D'Aquin's band, and late last night the floral exhibitors were tusy making their stands look bright and beautiful for the coming day.

FAREWELL TO THE OLD CLUBHOUSE.

DINNER OF THE LOTOS CLUB PRIOR TO ITS REMOVAL.

The Lotos Club has said adieu to its old clubhous at Fifth-ave, and Twenty-first-st., and last night there was given a dinner in honor of the early removal to a big clubhouse which it owns. It was an affair that none who sat about the board will ever forget. Song and speech flowed with the sparkling wine, and joby good fellowship reigned supreme.

President F. R. Lawrence in his opening speech referred to the many good times which had been enjoyed in the clubbouse they were about to leave, and to the guests they had entertained. Ex-Judge F. G. Gedney made a witty speech and Colonel Thomas W. Knox and others had stories of the "old" club days to tell. Harry Pepper sang several old English

INTERSCHOLASTIC TENNIS GAMES.

Cambridge, Mass., May & (Special).-The lawn tennis season opened auspiciously to-day with a tourna-ment, having the largest entry list of any other similar contest ever given in this country. Seventy five young men and boys appeared as the contestants in the third annual tourney for the interscholastic championship held under the auspices of the Harvard Tennis Club. Joseph T. Whittlesay, the secretary and official scorer of the association, started the day's play and acted as the referee. C. F. Budlong. of Providence, showed himself to be a coming player and possessed of present skill of no mean order. Bud-long went through four rounds of today's play without losing a single set, and only once did an opponent get the score up to four games. Favorable reports were again given yesterday o the condition of Edwin Booth. The bulletin posted at the Players' Club in the forenoon was as follows: at the Players' Club in the forenoon was as follows:
"There has been an improvement in Mr. Booth's condition since yesterday. All of the indications point toward recovery. St. Clair Smith." Nothing occurred in the course of the day and evening to alter the cheerful tone of this announcement. Mr. Booth was said to appear brighter yesterday than he had before in several days.

NEITHER DEAD NOR SLEEPING.

From Judge.

An article in "Harper's Weekly" treats of the passing of Senator Hill. Now David never passes. He always orders himself up. We observe that he is going to make a speech in the new State of Washington. It is likely to be a proclamation of purposes, perhaps a scheme for the reconciliation of silver and gold, that will attract attention and give him friends. A good general can do more with a small army than a poor general with a large one. David has many times fought millions of money with a nickel and a tooth-pick and won, and he may be able to, do it again. At all events he mustin't be buried until he is dead. The undertaker who tries to officiate at his funeral will be hurt by the corpse.

"The Ledger" will continue to be an accurate, reliable, clean, public spirited, independent journal, having no friends, who are not friends of the public, to praise; no enemies, who are not public enemies, to condemn; no interests to serve which are not public interests; it will continue to best serve itself by serving best the public.

FOR NEW ELEVATED LINES.

RAPID TRANSIT COMMISSION AROUSED.

UNLESS MANHATTAN CHANGES ITS ANSWER IN-DEPENDENT ROUTES WILL BE LAID OUT.

The answer of the Manhattan Railway Company to propositions of the Rapid Transit Commission has not aroused any enthusiasm among the Commissioners. On the contrary, it has displeased them and developed a much more powerful opposition to the schemes of the Manhattan Company than any one supposed existed. The chances for new independent lines of elevated railroads are excellent as the result of the answer of the Manhattan Company that was read by Julien T. Davies before the Com

The Commissioners are thoroughly aroused over this inadequate and selfish answer. As a result of the determination of the Manhattan Company not to accept the terms of compensation fixed by the Commission on April 12, at least three members of the Commission are determined to propose the laying out of two new independent lines to be offered for sale at auction. The absurdity from a business point of view of the objections of the Manhattan Company to the terms of compensation was pointed out yesterday to a Tribune reporter by John H. Inman. Mr. Inman has not had much to say at the recent meettngs of the Rapid Transit Commission. He has, how-ever, given the closest attention to the rapid transit problem. His wide experience as a highly successful railroad man enabled him to understand all the exouses, pleas and clever statements contained in Gould's answer.

Mr. Inman was seen last evening at his home, No. 20 West Fifty-sixth-st., by a Tribune reporter. "What will be the result of the Manhattan Company's rejection of the terms of compensation fixed by the commission!" the reporter asked. "Well," Mr. Inman answered, "It may result in the commission laying out new independent lines. I have come to believe that this step may have to be

"Do you believe that the present position of the Manhattan Company indicates the likelihood of such step being taken by the commission?" was asked. Yes; it will probably have to be done, unless the Manhattan Company alters its answer to a considerable extent. The Manhattan Company's definition of net receipts is not satisfactory. They define net receipts as 'the gross receipts, less operating expenses, which shall include expenditures actually made during the year to keep the road and equipment in safe and workable condition, taxes and interest on funded debt." The interest on the Manhattan Company's funded debt might be fixed so as to prevent the city from getting anything. . They might go on and issue bonds to any extent, so as to evade the necessity of paying

"How about the Manhattan Company's refusal to build to the city limits?"

"The commissioners would be willing to give them any reasonable length of time to complete their road authorized representatives of the Manhattan Company in public conference is wise. It will ald us greatly in ascertaining in a short time just where the Manhattan people stand. No matter what their decision may be, the result of these public confer-ences will hasten the commission's final action."

The position of Mr. Steinway and Mr. Starin on the question of compensation is well known. Mr. Starin still insists on the acceptance of the "5 per

The language of Mr. Gould on this point is clear and to the point. He will not accept this condition. Mr. Starin will not give to the Manhattan Company the extensions it asks for unless it will agree to pay per cent of its net receipts for the privileges Unless the Manhattan Company surrenders at the last minute and agrees to pay 5 per cent of its net recelpts, the commission will have only one alternative. It will be necessary to lay out new lines and sell them to people who are willing to pay for such a great privilege.

Engene L. Bushe, secretary of the Commission, wrote to Mr. Gould yesterday requesting him to appoint a committee of the Manhattan Board of Directors to confer with the Commission on Wednesday. Mr. Bushe also asked Mr. Gould to submit to the Commission a statement of the operating expenses, taxes, gross earnings, etc., of the Manhattan Company for the last three years.

DOES GRANT WANT TO BE COLLECTOR!

A REFORT THAT HE HAS APPLIED FOR THE PLACE-WHAT IT MAY MEAN.

Washington, May 6.-The name of John L. McCabe, of Brooklyn, N. Y., was to-day added to the list of applicants for the place of Collector of the Port New-York. "A friend" put in the name of Hugh Grant for the same office.

The report that ex-Mayor Hugh J. Grant, through "a friend," had added his application to the rather extensive list of candidates for the place of Collector at the Port of New-York was generally discredited yesterday, and the ex-Mayor would not say anything either confirming or denying it. It is known, how-ever, that he has been an applicant for this place ever since last fall, when his treatment by the Tammany General Committee resulted in the nomination of Thomas F. Gliroy for Mayor. Mr. Grant since that time has not been on good terms with the Tammany "boss." They are now as bitter enemies as they formerly were close friends, and this is all due to Mr. Croker's efforts to compel Mr. Grant, while Mayor, to appoint to office such men as Scannell and Seabold. Mayor Grant was anxions to receive a renomination from Tammany Hail last fall, but it was through Mr. Croker's efforts that this ambition was not realized. It is known that he has stood ready since January 1 to be the dumury behind which a political organization antagonistic to Tammany might be formed. . It has been thought by many of those who have been consistent enemies of Tammany Hall that the best way to destroy this machine would be by attacking it from within the ranks, and it is an open secret that they have been looking around for some one like ex-Mayor Grant to be the figure-head. Mr. Grant is not a politician to any ense of the word, but these men do not want a politician to fill that place. They do want some man who is in a position to draw from Tammany some of its working force, and they think that Mr. Grant can do It.

Several weeks ago it was said to a Tribune reporter oy a man well known in Tammany Hall that Hugh Grant was quietly a candidate for the place of Collector, and that he would have a good chance of getting it. Controlled by such men as William getting it. Controlled by such men as William R. Grace, ex-Mayor Hewitt, Charles S. Fairchild, and other men of the anti-snapper fraternity, Mr. Grant, as Collector of the Port here, might be the means of starting a fight in Tammany Hall that eventually might lead to the overthrow of this corrupt and daring political organization. If this application has been made by Mr. Grant it is the first one to come from Tammany Hall. Mr. Croker's orders in relation to applications have been of the strictest sort. He has ordered that no man in Tammany Strict. He has ordered that no man in Tammany shall apply for any pince which apply for any men have started out with pelitions, but in every case they have been squelched. If Mr. Grant's "friend" neited advisedly there may be considerably more in the report from Washington than the average politician

DR. GREER EXPECTS A BIG COLLECTION.

HE WANTS TO GET $69,000 FROM HIS CONGREGA

TION TO-DAY. The Rev. Dr. David H. Greer, of St. Barthold mew's Church, will ask his congregation this morn-ing for a collection of $60,000, and he expects to get ii. His wealthy parishioners have never yet failed him, he says, and now they are asked to put their bank bills and checks into the plate for the of redecorating their church building at Madison-ave.

"In the four years and a half that I have been here this church has paid out $1,035,000 for charity and current expenses, and this entirely from voluntary contributions, as the church has no endowment," said Dr. Greer last night. "Last year we spent $222,000 for charitable work, of which $150,000 went for objects inside the parish. We have the Swedish chapel, at No. 121 East One-hundred-andtwenty-seventh sp., Colonel Hadley's Rescue Mis-sion, in East Forty-second-st., St. Bartholemew's Chinese Guild, in St. Mark's Place, and Armenian and Syrian missions. Now, as we have heretofore spent nothing on the church itself above the actual running expenses, we hope to do a little fixing up. This I should have ilked to do when I first came here, and the members of the church were willing enough, but there was so much in the line of practical charity and mission work at hand that we let the church go and devoted our energies to those. Now the whole interior of the church will be gone over, partly remodelled, and wholly redecerated in colors subdued and tasteful but elegant. A large new organ will be put in, also, and connected with the gallery organ by electricity.

The details of the remodelling and decoration have been decided on, and the work now awaits only the financial response to Dr. Greer's request. The new organ will add to the already high musical renown of the church. The organist and musical director is Richard Henry Warren, and the soloists are: Mrs. Theodore J. Toedt, seprano; Mrs. Hattle Clapper Morits, contraito; James K. Ricketson, tenor, and Franz Remmertz, basso. work at hand that we let the church go and devote

FOOTBALL MEN ELECT OFFICERS.

TWO AMENDMENTS TO THE PLAYING RULES OF THE ASSOCIATION.

The annual meeting of the Intercollegiate Football Association was held at the Windsor Hotel last evening. The delegates present were Messrs, McCormick Hinkey and Holter, of Yale; Trenchard, Thompson and Munn, of Princeton; Judd and Gordon, of Weslevan; Mackey and Newton, of the University of Pennsylvania. The following officers were elected: F. A. Hinkey, Yale, president; J. MacN. Thompson, Princeton, secretary; Captain Mackey, University of Pennsylvania, treasurer. Two amendments were made to the playing rules, both proposed by Advisory Committee of the colleges, of which Walter Camp is chairman. The first was that the ball should taken out into the field for the try-at goal after a touchdown from the place where the ball was actually touched down, instead of from the place where the runner crosses the goal line. This rule was adopted because it has been frequently difficult to determine the exact place where the ball was carried over the line, and in order to give the side which scores the benefit of a successful fight to touch the ball down back of the goal posts.

The other amendment provides that no one shall interfere with the snapper-back by touching the ball until it is actually in play, with a penalty of five yards' loss in case of infringement. The snapperback is therefore entitled to full and undisturbed possession o the ball, instead of one-half the ball as hitherto. The object of this amendment is to prevent delay due to struggling over the ball in the

GERMAN OFFICERS ATTEND A " COMMERS."

Where the German eagle stretched forth his wings officers of the German men-of-war Kalserin Augusta and Sceadler and the members of the Liederkranz and Arion singing societies last evening moistened their throats with the nectar of Gambrinus and sang the songs of the Fatherland. They sat at the table in a genuine German "commers." It was a meeting that brought back the old student days, and the memories of the land beyond the seas. The walls of Arion Hall, where the "commers" was held, were decorated with the flags of Germany and the United States, and deep glasses were drained in honor of President and Kniser. There were lo rumblings, as a thousand glasses over the tables when the guests the salamander" and there were crashes emptied glosses were brought down upon the tables in unison. C. M. von Baur, president of the Arlor Society, opened the ceremonies and introduced Herbert Cillis, vice-president of the Liederkranz, who acted as master of the "commers." The assembled guests were all mighty flagon men and they drank many a foaming glass in exchanging international courtestes Captain Bucchsel, of the Karserin Augusta, and Cap-tain Koeliner, of the Secudier, made feeling responses to the toasts proposed by Gallus Thoman. The German Consul, Mr. Feigel, sat next to the presiding officer. The German officers present besides the cap-tains were: Lieutenants Gruettner, Von Bulow, Griesè and Kalserling, Chief Engineer Prussing, Engi-neers Morgenstern, Heinrich und Knack und Paymaster-von Wittke.
